MEET DAN, A PALEONTOLOGIST IN TRAINING

Dan – nicknamed ‘Dino Dan’ by his friends – is an ordinary 10-year old boy with an extraordinary obsession: he eats, sleeps and breathes dinosaurs. A typical day for Dan isn’t complete unless he’s racing a T-Rex on his school track, finding a Pterodactylus in his attic or getting a baby Brachiosaurus back to its mom. In Dino Dan, you don’t need to imagine dinosaurs – because they’re everywhere! But while Dino Dan is an expert in all things dinosaurs, he also specializes in getting his willing crew of classmates, teachers and family pulled into his larger-than-life adventures.
